

Grammarian

You should listen carefully during the meeting for grammatical errors, improper sentence construction, mispronunciations, and other violations of the King's English. You will also be counting every speaker's "Ah's", "You Know", "I would like to", running words together, dropping the "g" on "ing" words, and similar verbal crutches.

Other items to look for would be run-on sentences, taboo language, redundant words or phrases, factual errors, jargon and acronyms, and clichés. This will be part of your report as well. It is important to be as precise as possible.

	Person	Grammatical Errors
Toastmaster
Innvocation/Pledge
Thought for the evening
Wordmaster/Jokemaster
Table Topics Master
First Table Topic
Second Table Topic
Third Table Topic
Fourth Table Topic
Fifth Table Topic
President
First Speaker
Second Speaker
Third Speaker
Fourth Speaker
General Evaluator
First Evaluator
Second Evaluator
Third Evaluator
Fourth Evaluator
Timer

